BETHANY KUSTER

Bethany received this award after completing the 4th grade at Wind Gap Middle School in Pen Argyl, PA. At age nine, Bethany noticed that some of the things she enjoyed most in life, particularly crayons, were not available to everyone. Recognizing how important it is for kids to express themselves through art, she started an organization called Color For Kids. Bethany collects crayons and other art supplies through donations, and personally delivers them to schools in need. This small project gained so much attention it inspired partner schools and has now grown worldwide. To date, Bethany’s organization has distributed 50,000 crayons to 2,000 kids.
